CUTTING AFFRAY

Romo Travinia Badly Carved by Three of His Fellow Countrymen Last Sunday Morning

There seems to have been for some time past considerable feeling between two camps of Mexicans who have been working around the packing house, picking oranges, etc., on the Ross Ranch, just above the city limits on Glendale avenue. During the night of last Saturday, one of the occupants of a tent in which Romo Trevinia lodged, was taken ill and Trevinia arose and went outside to find for the sick man some herb remedy which grows in the vicinity. In doing this he ran over in the darkness a small garden patch belonging to the Quinonez family which occupied a shack nearby. When the elder Quinonez arose in the morning he discovered the tracks of a trespasser in his onion patch and seeking Trevinia he at once began to upbraid him for encroaching upon his domain. The result was a quarrel in which Quinonez called for reinforcements which arrived in the shape of his two sons who occupied the shack with their father. One of the party struck Trevinia on the head with a stone which knocked him down and then it appears the Quinonez family began to carve their victim up in a manner that almost put an end to his career.

When Constable Crowson and Marshal Miller arrived upon the scene shortly afterwards they found the wounded man covered with blood from three or four bad knife wounds, none of which had, however, penetrated a vital part. He was brought to Glendale and cared for by Dr. Chase, who sewed up wounds in back, head and side and sent him to the county hospital. He will get along all right if blood poisoning does not take place. The two officers had no difficulty in finding the perpetrators of the act, whom they placed under arrest and took to the county jail. They had disposed of their weapons, but we understand that the officers have secured sufficient evidence to warrant their conviction. The accused were to have appeared before Judge Melrose on Thursday morning, but owing to the fact that the district attorney's office could not be represented here on that date, the trial was postponed until Tuesday next when the judge will hold court at the old skating rink on Glendale avenue.

NEW BUILDINGS.

The same contractor is starting a house in the Randolph tract on Louise street, for J. H. Culver. This will be a five-room cottage with brick foundation, chipped brick chimney and a front porch of chipped brick with concrete floor; he is also building a three-room cottage for Mr. Zigler on the Imier tract on West Tenth street.

Don't forget entertainment tonight, K. P. hall.

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE TRUSTEES' MEETING.

After a period of stagnation that from a newspaper man's standpoint has been absolutely inexcusable, but of which taxpayers may have a contrary opinion, the board of trustees woke up out of a trance last Wednesday evening and things for a while became quite interesting. All went smoothly as a greased pig through the hands of the hunters until the end of the usual program was reached. Minutes were read, bills approved, street proceedings gone through with Methodist and Baptistically—than which nothing can be more harmless, when the ship of state struck a snag and for a strenuous half hour it looked as if there was nothing to do but call for the life preservers—or the police. When the trustees met in regular session last week the city attorney reported that he was not yet ready with the ordinance calling the special election for a bond issue on the electric light proposition. He was at that time chided by Trustee Anderson for not having it prepared, as he, Mr. Anderson, and everybody else was anxious to get a vote in the ballot box, or something to that effect. The result was that the city attorney at last Wednesday evening's session had, everything in proper shape, the ordinance calling the election for March 23d was all ready for adoption, when with a dull thud the proceedings came to a sudden halt and upon investigation it was discovered that Trustee Anderson had reversed the machinery and stood with a burning match over the powder magazine. To drop metaphor, he had changed his mind and had a typewritten statement showing that the estimate made for the trustees showing the cost of constructing, equipping and maintaining an electric lighting plant was grossly misleading and he didn't propose to stand for it. On roll call Messrs. Anderson and Cole voted "no" therefore, and as the ordinance required a two-thirds vote to secure its passage, it failed to pass, and all the preliminary work done by the board to ascertain whether the people wanted to vote on the question, to get the requisite information and to publish the resolution of intention, came to naught. There was some language used that verged on the unparliamentary line, but it was not found necessary to call out the bucket brigade. Chairman Watson fired a shot at the insurgents in parting and from the indications, dimly discernable through the smoke it did not seem to go far astray when we said "Now that you gentlemen have succeeded in saying that the city shall do nothing in this matter, it is for you to get busy and say what we shall do to get lights for Glendale."

TRUSTEES—SPECIAL MEETING.

March 10th, trustees met in special session at 7 p. m. in accordance with motion at previous meeting. The subject of the meeting was to decide on the action to be taken in regard to the matter of the appeal of property owners on Brand boulevard. The city attorney advised that the action of the street superintendent be approved and the appeal denied and action was taken accordingly. Vote being unanimous, all members present.

CITY TRUSTEES' REGULAR MEETING.

All members present. It was ordered that the bids for the improvement of Glendale avenue from Sixth street to the southern city limits, be opened and publicly declared. Bids as follows were opened, examined and declared:

H. V. Gifford, grading, 25c; oiling and tamping, 2 1/4c; curb, 21 1/2c; sidewalk, 7 1/2c.

Demands as follows were referred to the finance committee:

Demands previously referred to finance committee were reported back favorably.

Request of John R. Ott for an extension of thirty days' time for the completion of work on Orange street and Orange Grove avenue, was granted. Communication from the Tuesday Afternoon club calling the attention of the board to the desirability of providing for city parks, etc., received and filed. (It appears elsewhere.) The finance committee recommended that T. W. Doyle be allowed a salary of $40.00 per month beginning April 1st, for services as enumerated in his communication to committee. Recommendation adopted and contract ordered drawn.

Trustee Anderson on behalf of the health officer reported that the Independent Water Co. intends to cover its reservoir in the near future. The city marshal reported that the Glendale Planning Mill Co. had refused to muffle the gas engine at its mill. The city attorney was instructed to serve legal notice on the company to have engine muffled.

An ordinance ordering the widening of Adams street from the south line of First street to the southern city boundary line to uniform width of 60 feet, passed first and second readings. An ordinance providing for the inspection of all gas pipes and fittings and providing regulations in regard to same, passed third reading and was adopted. An ordinance calling a special election to be held on the 23d of March, submitting to the voters the question of a municipal lighting plant and voting bonds to the amount of $60,000 for the same, was taken up for third reading.

Vote resulted as follows: Ayes, Blackburn, Grant, Watson; noes, Anderson, Cole. Lacking the requisite two-thirds vote, it was defeated.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Juvenile Court Day,
March 9.

A number of things contributed to the success of Miss Ruth Byram's "Day" in the Tuesday Afternoon Club. First, the ladies upon entering the hall were greeted by the fragrance and brightness of the mass of bloom which had been used in the beautifying of the place.

Promptly at 2:30 the large body of women were called to order and after a report of the various committees, a special notice of which will be found elsewhere in this paper, a splendid program was announced by Miss Byram. Mrs. Hawken furnished a resume of the main events of the past year and incidentally gave an amusing and instructive description of election day in Wyoming during her residence in that state, of which she had the privilege of suffrage. After "Current Events," the club enjoyed two musical numbers given by the local P. E. O. Double Quartet, which sang with its usual finish and sweetness. The crowning event of the afternoon, however, was the talk given by the guest of honor, Mrs. W. D. Byram, probation officer of the Los Angeles Juvenile court. For an hour and a quarter she held her hearers spellbound, partly by the magnetism of her own personality, partly by her earnestness, but more truly by the great message which she had for her audience, that of the reclaiming and reformation of wayward youth. Mrs. Byram's simple, unaffected, straight-from-the-heart manner of expressing herself found immediate response from every heart. She explained that the object and aim of the Juvenile court was not punitive but corrective; that judges and officers of the law were hard to convince that delinquent children should not be sent to the penitentiary or the reform school. "Whittier" is the last sentence imposed, and that when absolutely all other corrective measures have failed. The court never considers a bad boy or girl a criminal; but that there is some physical disturbance usually the fault of his environment, and that a healthy body will in most cases produce a healthy happy mind and disposition. Any reputable citizen may file a petition against a child. If the case is urgent the child may be placed in the detention home until the hearing before Judge Wilbur, but there is nothing said to the child to punish or frighten him. He is merely urged to tell the truth when he appears before Judge Wilbur, and Mrs. Byram says that almost all do when he questions them in his tactful kindly way.

If need be the child is placed under the care of the physician and put on probation for periods of one or two weeks as the case may be and he promises to report at the end of the period. They can usually be depended upon to do so and to tell the truth respecting their conduct.

Mrs. Byram said that if the child falls down that the court never discourages, but always encourages them by noticing and "liking" the good qualities they exhibit, and "disliking" the naughty things they do. Thus they gain and hold the child's confidence and soon work the transformation.

The speaker gave as causes of delinquency among others physical condition, environment, heredity with all that it implies, modern science and modern environments, embracing the dance halls and the picture shows, and the women of the club for co-operation in the work, to consider themselves each their brother's keeper and to do what they could along home lines. She made it plain that the remedy for the evil is for fathers and mothers to become acquainted with their children; to know where they are, what they are doing and with whom they are associated. That parents should handle children with infinite tact and according to the child's disposition, not according to the parent's temperament.

Mrs. Byram gave a cordial invitation to the ladies of Glendale to visit Judge Wilbur's court in department 8 at the court house any Friday afternoon at 2:30, and see for themselves the work that is being done. Mrs. Byram has promised to appear again before the club this year.

High School entertainment tonight.

Students give the whole program. Miss Lucile Shultz entertained guests on Thursday.

Mr. E. T. Byram and daughter, Miss Ruth, spent part of the week visiting relatives in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Muir, of Dawson City, Alaska, and the Misses Britton of Plattville, Wis. have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shaver the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Birket of Belmont street are entertaining for a few weeks Mr. Birket's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Birket of Nebraska.

Miss Shirley Chase is spending the week in Los Angeles with her grandmother, Mrs. Pirtle. The popular little Miss is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Chase of Fourth street.

Guests on Monday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Shropshire were Mrs. Grace Pills of Los Angeles, and her mother, Mrs. A. Parts of Chicago, who is spending the spring months in this locality.

Music, art, drama, K. P. hall tonight.

Rev. Dr. Glass, president of St. Vincent's college, will preach at the Catholic church, Lomita avenue east of Glendale avenue, at four o'clock Sunday (tomorrow) afternoon. Everybody cordially invited.

During the windstorm Wednesday morning, the screen door on the front of Petersen & Co.'s store was blown back upon one of the large plate glass windows of that establishment, smashing it into many pieces. The damage will probably reach $50 or more.

Mrs. M. S. Van Laven very pleasantly entertained the Kensington Club of Los Angeles, at her home on Sixth street, March 4th. A nice luncheon was served. Those present were Mesdames Bryant, Morgan, Matthison, Campbell, McCully, Fallis, Lawless, Auchenbach, Johnson, Yarik, Goodwin, Kemper, Brooke, Darr, Allan, Osgood and Lennox.

Mr. J. L. Overton went into Los Angeles one day this week to call upon his distinguished fellow Missourian, ex-Gov. Crittenden, who is spending the winter in Southern California. He had a pleasant hour with the old gentleman, who was governor of Missouri from 1880 to 1884 and has a good record as a public official to look back on in his declining years.

Ho! for the School entertainment!

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wannemacher and children of Ontario, have been visiting in Glendale for some days past. Mr. Wannemacher left for his home in Ontario on Sunday last, and Mrs. Wannemacher and the children left Thursday. They have been visiting Mrs. W. A. Anderson, and Miss Frances Wannemacher, who are sisters of Mr. Wannemacher.

Taylor Robinson, the High School student who was injured in the basketball game on the Alhambra court between El Monte and Glendale, is in a precarious condition. The young man suffered a broken rib. Later it was discovered that a second one had been fractured. This has never healed and Dr. Reed last week performed an operation and found the bone in very bad condition so that it may have to be removed.—El Monte Gazette.

Mr. R. A. Blackburn (who waives his right to the prefix of "Dr." when he is dealing in real estate and things) is wearing a large beauty patch on his right cheek, just where the hoof of his horse landed a few nights ago. He was chasing the animal in the gloaming when it threw both hind feet skyward and one happened to strike its master, who intervened. The wound was serious enough to require some stitches, but fortunately did not prove to be a very serious injury.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith of "The Pines," had the pleasure of entertaining their former pastor and wife, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Frisbie, of Des Moines, Iowa. Although having traveled extensively, this is their first visit to Southern California. They were surprised and delighted at the beauty of our scenery and views of the mountains. They also entertained Mrs. Dr. L. B. Harbach, of Des Moines, a graduate of Bern Medical University, Switzerland, who compared the scenery of Glendale very favorably to that of Switzerland.

The new High School pennants are very handsome ones. They are black and cardinal instead of crimson and white, as was formerly used. The change was voted upon because so many Los Angeles county schools used red and white, and something distinctive was desired. The new pennants will be greatly in evidence at the coming big track meet at Occidental, to which Glendale pupils annually turn out en masse, accompanied by the faculty and a big percentage of parents.

At the Grammar Schools the question of the moment is "How many more days till the spring vacation, anyway?" At the High School, "What are YOU going to wear to the track-meet?"

The Senior Class of Nurses of the Glendale Sanitarium enjoyed a very pleasant reception, Tuesday evening. The entertainment was given by Miss Nina Lowry of the Junior Class and her mother, Mrs. C. E. Lowry at their home in Los Angeles. The combination of a class reception for the Seniors and a birthday surprise for the class president, was heartily enjoyed by all. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the informality of the program which consisted of music, light refreshments, recitations and readings. Those present were Mrs. C. E. Lowry, Miss Nina Lowry, Miss Adelaide Case, Miss Sophia Conway, Miss Eva F. Dickson, Mrs. E. F. Drummond, Mrs. Frances Johnson, Miss Edith Jones, Miss Mildred Metcalf, Miss Lilian Rose, Miss Mary V. Sanborn, Miss Alma Youngquist and E. C. Silsbee, the "surprise(d) party." All gladly accepted the hearty invitation of the hostess to come again.

Installation of officers was later conducted in a very beautiful manner by Mrs. Elizabeth Moyle.

Mr. Elmer B. Riggs, of the NEWS, had a birthday this week. They had occurred before, but the fact has generally been kept quiet. This time the news of the arrival of his natal day leaked out, the result being that several of the young men who are members of his Sunday school class sprang a surprise party on him, to which Mrs. Riggs is suspected of being an accessory. Although properly and really surprised, Mr. Riggs rose nobly to the occasion and he and his family and the guests thoroughly enjoyed the evening. There are said to have been six kinds of cake, but as samples of three kinds only reached the NEWS office, the statement is given for what it is worth.

GLENDAL, CAL., MARCH 13, 1909

Governor Gillette has signed the bill naming March 7th, the birthday of Luther Burbank, to be hereafter "Arbor Day" and a school holiday in California. It will not be a legal holiday, but is set aside to be observed in the schools in honor of the "Wizard of Santa Rosa," by the planting of trees and flowers and other appropriate exercises.

ABOUT ADVERTISING.

We have no quarrel with the business man who will not advertise. He is probably doing the best he can, just as the rest of us are in a different way. He is simply built that way and lacks the power to triumph over an unfortunate handicap, which keeps him back in the race. He does not love the giddy whirl of bustling life. He has merit and is conscious of it and possibly has ambitious feelings across his mental plates at times, of an idea that sometime the world will find him out. He is content with the world and himself; the procession moves on, even the small boy with the water, pail that brings up the rear, passes him by—so does the crowd that rushes on to the place that advertises—but they are not wearing out the floorway of his store nor musing up the pile of goods on the counter; he doesn't have to exert himself—blessed be obsecrity and forgetfulness!

HOLLYWOOD GAS—A MISLEADER.

It is announced that a big balloon will sail from Los Angeles "for the East" in about ten days. It will be one of the biggest things that ever happened, but the detail that impresses us most is the statement that it will go to Hollywood to be filled with gas. Why anybody or anything should go from Los Angeles to Hollywood for gas, is one of those conundrums difficult for a fellow to find out. At this safe distance we can only assume that prodigious as the supply is in Los Angeles, it is inadequate to meet the demand for it in the present recall campaign. And yet "Uncle George" has some very expert experts on the stump with him, too. Possibly however it's a question of quality. We do fear, however, for our contemporaries the Citizen and the Sentinel, for if that big balloon takes 110,000 cubic feet of gas from our classic sister city, the reporters skating around the rim of the hole left in the atmosphere are in perilous danger of falling in.

THE THEATER AND THE CHURCH.

The Rev. Chas. E. Locke of Los Angeles has been preaching against the theater, and, if correctly reported, denouncing it, not in sections, but as a whole. He does not say that the theater is altogether bad, nor actors depraved, yet his sweeping condemnation of the stage would certainly lead one to infer that such is their character. We do not believe that the world is made better by denunciation whether from the pulpit or elsewhere, of any of the amusements of mankind as evil in themselves. The stage is a great power for either good or evil, and indiscriminate denunciation of it is no more sane than indiscriminate praise. The theater is not what we should like to see it; but neither is the church, for that matter, but both are with us to stay while human nature remains as it is, and it is clearly the duty of any one who pretends to work for the betterment of the world, to get what good he can out of either of them and to oppose only that which is evil.

The unexpected collapse of the campaign for an electric lighting plant under municipal control, owing to the reversal of his position by trustee Anderson, will be a disappointment to a large number of our people who favor the idea of municipal ownership. The trustees went into this matter slowly and with commendable care; they endeavored to find out whether any considerable number of our people desired to have the matter brought to a vote, and having determined that a great many of them did so, they very properly made preparations for calling an election to decide the matter of a bond issue. It is quite probable that if this election had been called, the proposition might not have been supported by this paper. But be that as it may, the arguments on both sides would have been fairly presented. We think the minority of the board are wrong in refusing to allow the people to vote on the proposition. Whether the board of trustees approve or disapprove of this or any other proposition it is not for them to refuse to allow the people an opportunity to express themselves at the polls in regard to a matter in which such general interest is taken.

LOCAL OPTION BY COUNTIES.

It is impossible for any one to draw a line with any exactness so as to be able to say that "this is local, all other is general." Local option in California has generally been confined to municipalities and to county election precincts. In a few cases it has been extended to embrace all the territory within county lines. As the law at present stands, the supervisors can put the question to the people for a vote or not, just as they please, and in some instances they have refused to do so although petitioned by an undoubted representation of a majority of voters. There is now a proposed law before the legislature making it mandatory upon county supervisors to put the question of licensing the sale of strong drink up to the people when petitioned by a certain percentage of the voters to do so. It seems to us that this measure should become a law. The supervisors as the servants of the people, should not refuse to allow them an opportunity to vote upon any question of local interest. If the majority of the people of a county want local option, the right to express themselves to that effect at the polls, should not be denied.

THE WORK OF THE JUVENILE COURT.

Mrs. W. D. Byram, who is connected with the work being done by Judge Wilbur in the juvenile court in Los Angeles, gave an interesting and instructive talk before the Tuesday Afternoon Club this week. The large audience of ladies present, those particularly who are mothers, felt that they were well repaid for their attendance at this meeting. Mrs. Byram is a practical worker and not a dilettante preacher of theories; she illustrates the points that she wishes to make, by true stories that have come under her own observation, and her advice to parents comes as from one speaking with authority. If fathers and mothers could more generally learn the lessons which Mrs. Byram endeavored to impress upon her hearers on Tuesday last, there would be infinitely more hope for the youth of both sexes. The present craze for reform by legal machinery, undoubtedly has one bad result—it has a tendency to lead parents to throw the burden of responsibility upon society at large; to make them more anxious to perform the impossible task of getting temptation out of the world, than by devoting themselves intelligently to the rearing of their children, render them comparatively immune to the evils that they necessarily encounter in life.

RUSSIA IN MANCHURIA.

When through the efforts of President Roosevelt, a treaty of peace was entered into and the bloodiest war in modern times brought to an end, one of the conditions agreed to was that Russia should evacuate Manchuria; the Chinese province which was the cause of the war between Russia and Japan. The Japanese had beaten the Russians on every battlefield of the war and demonstrated their superiority over their antagonists in endurance, courage, patriotism and all the other virtues that are developed in a people by the supreme test of war. They were surely in a position to dictate terms to their beaten adversary, but yielding to the earnest desire of President Roosevelt for peace, they relinquished a just demand for a money indemnity and accepted terms which were to a great extent barren of the usual fruits of victory. The evacuation of Manchuria by Russia was, however, insisted upon and became of prime importance in the terms of the treaty of peace.

The war ended over three years ago, but Russia still occupies Manchuria, and the indications are that she has no intention of abandoning it. It is reported, indeed, that she is constantly strengthening her position there and the opinion of those who are acquainted with affairs in that portion of the world, is to the effect that Russia is preparing for that time when she is not far distant when the Czar will again compel the Mikado to fight for the existence of his island empire. The treaty of peace having been brought about by the president of the United States, the people of this country and those at the head of the government can scarcely be indifferent as to the condition of affairs in the far East. The incoming president has inherited from his predecessor a very troublesome collection of problems which devolve upon him for solution, and not the least of them is the one which involves the question of dealing with the parties to the Portsmouth treaty so that the agreement there made may be faithfully observed. It is not likely that President Taft will shrink from responsibility in this matter in his program of carrying out the Roosevelt policy, and he and his secretary of state will doubtless make whatever efforts they properly can to induce Russia to perform the obligations imposed by the treaty of peace.

THE VALUE OF LAND.

The newcomer to Southern California, especially to this particular section of it, is very likely to be impressed at first with the idea that real estate is quoted at too high a figure. But he comes from a farming section of the East, he is very likely to say, "Why you can't make it pay the interest on the money." And from his point of view, his idea is probably correct, for although it is not impossible in some cases to make an acre of land at $1000 or upward pay a good interest on the investment, yet as a general rule it does not do it. But as the immigrant from the frigid East remains here awhile, his point of view shifts around to another position and he sees that there are other valuable products than those which are measured in pounds, bushels or pints. He reads in the morning paper about the blizzard, the cyclone or something of that sort that has been agitating the atmosphere and making life miserable for the folks "back home," and comes to the conclusion that maybe the climate that hangs over the California acre is a tangible item of value after all. There are innumerable acres of land in the United States that can produce more hogs and hominy in a given space than can be grown on the same quantity of land in Southern California, but the acreage that is so well adapted to all the requisites that make our twentieth century life worth living, is limited in the extreme. Speaking of this subject a few days ago, a friend of the writer mentioned the fact that within twenty miles of the nation's capital, two or three acres of productive land, good buildings and a nearby market, can be bought for less than the cost of the bare land here. At the same time, notwithstanding the undoubted advantages possessed by that section of our country, the home buyer in nine cases out of ten, would undoubtedly prefer to be located in California, even on a city lot, at the same price; There is one crop, not mentioned in the market quotations, that California raises to perfection, and it is much more a product of the climate than of the soil, and that is, American citizens! Just for the purpose of encouraging the output of this product alone, our California acres are worth far more than the market price. As remarked above, they are more a product of the climate than the soil. And climate is a rarer article than is generally supposed. It is not mere weather, it is a condition of more or less permanency. Some one has said of London that it has no climate, but rather a collection of all sorts of weather. Which illustrates the distinction we would make in favor of that element which overhangs and is appurtenant to the California acre; that makes it more and more valuable as the years go on, so that in the process of time when the toughest of us have simply dried up and been blown away by the breath of the morning zephyr, the unfortunates who survive us will crowd into California to the extent of depopulating the rest of the world, and fight for standing room while they breathe it in! The price of an acre now, will be cheerfully paid by and by just for standing room!

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The local union of the W. C. T. U. held their annual meeting on Friday, March 5th, at the home of their president, Mrs. Gaylord. In the morning occurred the election of officers and the regular business, and the noon tide prayer, as is the custom of the society. An elaborate luncheon was served, after which came the reports of the different superintendents of department work, and the report of the president.

Mrs. Gaylord was again elected president, Mrs. Evans, recording secretary; Mrs. Ayers, treasurer; Mrs. Brown, vice president; Mrs. Harn, recording secretary. On Sunday evening at the M. E. church there was held a union gospel temperance meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The ministers of the different churches in the city were present and there was much convincing talk in favor of prohibition. There was also splendid temperance music by the choir and also quartet, duet and solo.

PRESS SUPERINTENDENT.

GLENDAL-EAGLE ROCK ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

Manager Goode promises that the first car over the new road will run this afternoon. As we go to press everything is in fair condition for business from the Eagle Rock terminals to the Glendale city limits and wires are being strung over that section rapidly. A movement is on foot among our business men and others to have a celebration some day next week to appropriately celebrate the completion of this undertaking which means much for the upbuilding of Glendale and in this celebration it is expected that the people of Eagle Rock will join as the road will be a link connecting the two places much more intimately than heretofore.

CALIFORNIA'S PROGRESS.

Circular No. 3, "A Bibliography of Forestry in California," has been compiled by Ernest Bruncken of the state library and is an interesting compilation which may be seen at the Glendale library. Mr. Bruncken is one of the most scholarly and exhaustive in his researches of any worker at the state library and this bibliography comprises many books, papers and miscellaneous publications classified under some of the following heads: "Forest Description," "Forest Protection," "Fires," "Forest Utilization," "Forest Law and Policy," "Eucalyptus."

Of particular interest are the writings of John Muir, Asa Gray, President Roosevelt and others relative to the Sequoias or big trees of California, two groves of which by one of the latest acts of President Roosevelt in signing the bill passed by the senate and house, have been preserved for all time as national holdings. For nine years the citizens and club women of California have been working towards this end and the reports, messages and descriptions relative to the same are classified in this bibliography.

As the subject of forestry in all its varied ramifications is claiming the serious attention of the United States government, this is a most timely classification, showing conclusively as it does, a great mass of work and general intelligence, connected with the subject in this state.

The State Board of Forestry consists of James N. Gillette, governor; Chas. F. Curry, secretary of state; U. S. Webb, attorney general; C. B. Lull, state forester.

Report of Forestry and Parks Committee.

The following partial report is of equal interest to all property holders in Glendale:

"Your committee most earnestly urges and recommends the support, influence and co-operation of every member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, in the matter of city improvement as pertaining to parks, street tree planting and broad streets, believing that wise and up-to-date action in these particulars, will do more towards producing an attractive and beautiful appearance in our city than any other improvement. We would emphasize the fact that now, in the beginning of our city, is the time to build for the future.

We would also especially mention that during the remainder of March all planting and transplanting of trees, shrubs and plants should be vigorously pushed in order to receive the benefit of the last rains. For the same reason, parkways also should be planted at once throughout the city.

City Forester Harper of Los Angeles disapproves of the use of flowers in these, as they are often out of season, ragged and unsightly. We would therefore recommend the various mesembrianthemums, stone crop, lipia repens and ivy geranium, all of which look well with little water and little or no care or cultivation. Let us choose one kind of plant and not a heterogeneous conglomeration.

Your committee further recommends the presentation of the following petition to the city council:

To the Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Gentlemen: We the committee representing the Tuesday Afternoon Club, of Glendale, in remembrance of past recognition by your honorable body, again approach you and respectfully call your attention to the desirability of taking steps towards a park or parks for Glendale, previous to the time in the near future, when property shall have so advanced in price that a large expense must be incurred to purchase the same. Inasmuch as there are several large parks in process of improvement within a few miles of Glendale, and these are or will be of easy access to our city, we believe that a large park for Glendale may not be a necessity, but advise and recommend the establishment of several small parks, squares or breathing spaces scattered throughout our city for the comfort and convenience of our own people, and as a practical and aesthetic attraction to possible and desirable homeseekers.

We solemnly ask the solution in the near future of this problem which sooner or later confronts all cities.

We would further add that we deprecate both the planting and uprooting of trees in various parts of Glendale in violation of the city ordinance pertaining to the same and deplore the fact that several fine trees have been needlessly destroyed.

Respectfully submitted, Committee Forestry and Parks, Tuesday Afternoon Club.

INTENSE INTEREST IN JUVENILE COURT.

Mrs. Fannie Byram, probation officer in Judge Wilbur's juvenile court, Los Angeles, has promised a date in June to the Tuesday Afternoon Club, when a special invitation will be extended to mothers and teachers to attend. Mrs. Byram's audience on Tuesday at the club room was ideally attentive and enthusiastic and the speaker regretted the lack of time for a question hour. "The truth as I see it every day, is vividly brought out by intelligent questioning. Also in this manner," said the speaker in an interview at the close of the meeting, "can I give you that part of the truth you are especially interested in. When I come again—and I shall certainly try to come—I want the women to ask me questions. Such an audience as I had today is an inspiration and so greatly encouraging. I shall enjoy coming in June." So many inquiries have been sent to the club program committee about this next lecture that already it is predicted that the largest audience Glendale clubdom has seen this season will greet her. A committee from the club will in the meantime visit Judge Wilbur and his famous court and make definite arrangements with Mrs. Byram which will be published.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

March 14th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)
Aeneas and Dorcas. Acts 9:31-43.
Golden Text—And Peter said unto him: Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole, arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately. — Acts 9:34.

Verse 31—Do darkness and light, fighting and victory, sorrow and joy, persecution and "rest" alternate and enter into every normal Christian life today, as in the Christian Community in the beginning?

When a church walks in "the fear of God," and "the comfort of the Holy Spirit," is it always multiplied?

Verse 32—Was there any institution in the apostolic age, to correspond with our settled pastorate?

If preachers were to follow the apostolic plan, of "passing throughout all quarters," would the final conquest of the world be hastened?

To whom did the name "saint" apply in those days, and should we continue the use of it in these days?

Verses 33,34—Is all sickness of the devil?

Are some people sick by the special dispensation of God?

Does not God take most people to Heaven through sickness?

What proportion of sickness is avoidable?

Are we to assume that God wants to cure everybody from their sickness, the same as he does from their sins?

Was Aeneas cured through his own faith, or by the power and pleasure of God, without faith?

What is the difference in this cure and modern faith healing methods?

Is God's ideal for us, sickness or health?

Does God cure some people today in a similar way to the cure of this man?

Is faith for the cure of sickness a special gift of God, and are we not instructed that God will cure the sick in answer to such faith?

Verse 35—When God does cure some cases of noted sickness, what are the results in the community?

If the Church should have the power restored of healing sickness, would that produce a permanent revival?

Verses 36-38—Is it as a rule possible for a Christian to live without doing good?

How do you classify those who content themselves with going to church and prayer meeting, and talking and praying, and are not following Jesus in "going about doing good?"

Why did God permit Dorcas to die?

Why does God sometimes permit those to die upon whom so much depends: the bread-winner of the family, the mother of little children, the pillar in the church, or the "Dorcas" in the community?

Verses 39—Should a Christian always be ready to go to the home of sorrow, to render help and impart comfort?

Is it a beautiful custom to speak of the good deeds of the dead, and it is well kept up; but is there not almost criminal neglect in speaking of the good deeds of the living? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 40-43—Is there any use today in praying that the dead be raised?

Why did God raise the dead in those, and not these days?

What great purpose has that miraculous age served?

Even if these miracles should prove to be but legends, will it affect one iota, any essential truth of Christianity?

Lessons for Sunday, March 21, 1909.—Review.

A Wheat Hospital.

"This wheat has been through the hospital," said a miller. "I can tell by the fine polish on the grains. Wheat that has been through the hospital for smut disease comes out better than well wheat."

The wheat grains, in truth, shone so that one could almost see one's face in them.

"You can see your face in them, can't you?" said the miller. "And no wonder. They've been through drastic treatment—drastic. Smut is a nasty disease, a kind of mold, that changes the starch and gluten in wheat to a black powder. When you see four full of black specks it is a sign that some of the wheat was smutted. The cure is first to wash the wheat thoroughly. Then you dry it. Then you scour it. Then you dry it again. Finally you brush it. Wheat hospitals—they are found in most grain elevators nowadays—have big machines for washing, drying, scouring and brushing the grain, and wheat on its very last legs comes out of those infirmaries as spruce and blooming as a football girl."—Buffalo Express.

An Astrologer's Letter.

An astrologer's letter to President Van Buren forecasting the results of his election in 1840 is in the library of congress and perhaps gives a crude idea of some of the fallacies of our grandfathers. The following are some extracts: "In this horoscope the ascendant directed to the semisquare of Mars would be in operation about the middle of the fourth year, October, 1785, and might cause sickness, . . . flux or hurt by wounds," etc. . . . "I have opened the horoscope for General Harrison, which accords with the chief events of his past life and which if right he will not fill the office of president during the next term even if elected. And the danger I apprehend to yourself is not from your public opponents, but from those on whom you repose confidence." Those who are superstitious may be inclined to credit this star gazer with some measure of wisdom, for Harrison, although elected, died a month after his inauguration.—New York Post.

Home Loving Montenegrins.

Nowhere is love of country more intense than among the Montenegrins, to whom exile is the greatest of punishments. When W. J. Stillman was there in the seventies all the free men were away fighting, and he observed that when a messenger was wanted the official took a man out of the prison and sent him off, with no fear that he would not return. One such messenger was sent to Cattaro, in Austrian territory, with a large sum of money for the bank, and he duly came back. Another asked a Russian at Cattaro to intercede with Prince Nicholas for his release from prison. "But you are not in prison," said the Russian. "Oh," said the man, "I have only come down for a load of skins for So-and-so, but I must go into prison again when I get back to Cetinje." One prison guard watched all the prisoners when they sunned themselves out of doors, and if he was called away a prisoner would take his rifle and act as sentry for the time.

Abroad.

Abroad is a locality entirely surrounded by seasickness. In another view it is a bourne more or less mysterious, bounded on its farther side by your income and on its nearer side by your custom houses where you have to declare everything you bring back with you except a foreign accent and one change of hosiery.

Abroad is where—

1. They put a. Labels all over your luggage and b. It all over you.
2. You are almost always going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and the good Samaritan invariably wants a tip.

Abroad is the stage of history, but that is only because history made the too common mistake of not seeing America first.—Puck.

Keeping Up the Limit.

In J. Comyns Carr's reminiscences is a characteristic anecdote of Burne-Jones, who had consulted his doctor about certain symptoms which seemed alarming.

"How many cigars do you smoke in a day?" the doctor inquired of his patient, to which Burne-Jones had carelessly replied, "Oh, I think about six." "Well," replied his adviser, "for the present you had better limit yourself to three." And in detailing the incident to me afterward Burne-Jones added, with a chuckle, "You know, my dear Carr, I never did smoke more than three."

Nicotine.

"If excessive smoking alone could cause heart degeneration," writes a correspondent of the London Mail, "such cases would be common instead of extremely rare. The fact is that only an almost infinitesimal amount of nicotine is absorbed in smoking. An ordinary sized cigar or an ounce of smoking tobacco contains enough of this virulent poison to kill two men. The only reason all smokers are not killed at once is that the nicotine is destroyed in the combustion of the leaf."

Procrastination.

"Why is procrastination said to be the thief of time?" asked the teacher. "Cause it takes a fellow so long to say it," answered the bright boy at the foot of the class.—Chicago News.

Either Way.

Permit me to invite you home to dinner with me, but we have no cook. KJONES—And I'd invite you home with me, but we have one.—Cleveland Leader.

A Spanish War Criticism.

When the Spanish war came upon us Commodore Dewey was at Hongkong. The navy department had sent him no preliminary orders. He didn't know anything about the ultimate policy or what the ultimate plan of campaign would be. The navy department didn't itself know. Dewey should have moved two or three days sooner than he did, and two or three days sometimes are vital. But our Washington officials were only aroused to the necessity of giving Admiral Dewey an order by a cablegram from Dewey informing them that the British governor of Hongkong insisted that our fleet must leave there. We were so dazed by the immediate exigencies of war that the English government had to prod us in the ribs to wake us up. Then our Washington authorities issued an order and not till then. They told Dewey to proceed to the Philippine Islands and capture or destroy the Spanish fleet. In other words, they gave him the stereotyped war order in the phraseology of the signal code, which, literally translated, read: "Go ahead and do the best you can. We give it up."—Collier's.

The Silver Thread.

A matron in Harlem was calling upon another matron in Harlem. Neither was young, but one looked more so.

"Really, my dear," said the one that looked more so, "you ought to have your hair treated. It's becoming quite gray in spots. See what a difference it has made with me. You would look much younger—really."

"But I don't care to look much younger if I must dye my hair to do so," was the reply. "I prefer to be natural. If the Lord sends me gray hair there's a good reason, and I'm satisfied."

"But think of your children, my dear. They're grown up now."

"What have they got to do with it?" "Why, don't you see? The younger you look the younger it makes them appear. And your girls are way past twenty, you know."

The matron who was gray in spots was still looking dazed when her visitor departed.—New York Globe.

Costly Law Robes.

An English judge's outfit in the way of robes imposes a heavy tax upon the newly appointed judge, although the cost is not nearly so great as it was in the early days of Queen Victoria. Then it was the custom for the law luminaries to attend court functions in figured damask silk gowns, with costly lace bands and ruffles. These, a celebrated legal dignitary of that day, is said on one occasion to have spent $100 on bands alone. The lord chancellor's robes cost something like $150, and even a judge's stockings are an expensive item. The wardrobe of a judge costs anything from $500 to $600, and if the newly fledged "my lord" is attached to the king's bench division he will require five gowns, a girdle, a scarf, a casting hood, a black cap, a three cornered cap, a beaver hat, a cocked hat, a silk hat, lace bands and two full court suits, swords, etc., to keep up the majesty of the law.—London Globe.

What They Said.

"Did the girls say anything when they heard of my engagement?" she asked, with a little curiosity.

"Very little," was the reply of her dearest friend.

"But they said something?" "Oh, yes; they said something."

"Well, what was it?" "Well, most of them merely exclaimed, 'At last!'"

There was a pause, and then she asked:

"Well, what did some of the others say?"

"One of them said, 'Who'd have thought it?' Another, 'Will wonders never cease?' And a third—"

"Oh, never mind the rest," interrupted the fiancée. "I never did have much curiosity."

Was He Delirious?

"Almost every man," says a Baltimore specialist, "learns sooner or later to think of his doctor as one of his best friends, but this fact does not hinder the world from laughing at the profession."

"How is our patient this morning?" asked a physician, a fellow graduate of mine, of a patient's brother.

"Oh, he's much worse," came from the other in a tone of dejection. "He's been delirious for several hours. At 3 o'clock he said, 'What an old woman that doctor of mine is!' and he hasn't made a rational remark since."—Lippincott's.

A Rising Fall.

A certain member of the British government who was admittedly a great failure was being discussed by two of his colleagues.

"And now," concluded one, "they want to make him a peer!"

"No," said the other, with greater acumen; "they want to make him disappear."

Taking Chances.

Mother—Johnny, your Uncle Henry will be here for dinner, and you must have your face and hands washed. Small Johnny—Yes, mamma, but's posin' somethin' happens and he don't come, what then?—Exchange.

Not So Exacting.

"So you're a butcher now?" "Yes," explained the former dry goods clerk. "The ladies don't try to match sparagris or steak."—Kansas City Journal.

If a chameleon becomes blind it loses its power to change its hue and remains a blackish color.

Crowding Him.

Mr. Pogson's three sons had married and gone to settle down in different parts of the country. One day he received this telegram from the eldest:

You have a grandson. Fine boy. Ten pounds.

Mr. Pogson answered it at once:

Good! Buy finest baby carriage you can find and send bill to me.

FATHER.

In due time the bill came. It called for $35, and he sent his check for the amount.

A few weeks later his second son sent him this dispatch:

You are the grandparent of a fine boy. Not weighed yet but a bouncer.

HENRY.

To this he responded:

Glad to hear it. Buy good, serviceable baby carriage and forward bill to me.

FATHER.

Promptly came the bill. It was for $25, and he paid it.

Ten days elapsed, and then came a dispatch from the third son, to this effect:

You have another grandson. Large, fine boy. Named for you.

ALBERT.

Mr. Pogson's response to this was as follows:

All right, but looks like crowding me. Am sending $1250. Buy baby carriage with it.

FATHER.

—Youth's Companion.

Very Lucky.

The following is a genuine essay by a ten-year-old boy:

"My life has been a very lucky one. When I was three years old I fell downstairs and cut my head. When I was five years old I was looking at some hens, and a dog bit my leg. When I was eight I went with my brother in the trap, and the horse fell and threw us out of the trap; my brother lit on his feet, and I lit on the horse's back. Last year I was playing, and I ran into a surrey and cut my eyebrow, and it has left a mark. One day I went into the slaughter house, and a big sheep ran after me and knocked me down. I have had a happy life."

This cheerful acceptance of what are usually regarded as the ills of life reminds the writer of an old school-fellow who took part in the fight at Ellandsiaange at the beginning of the South African war. After the engagement he was taken to the hospital at Pietermaritzburg. As soon as he was able he wrote home and sent his people the tonic he had worn in the battle.

"You will see," he wrote, "that there are eleven bullet holes in it, but I was awfully lucky. Only six of them hit me."—Cleveland Leader.

Ben Franklin's Keenness.

Two incidents recall the keenness and the thoroughness—the great twin abilities, to see and to utilize—of Ben Franklin. One day he chanced to observe a lady in the possession of an imported whisk broom. With his usual interest and careful consideration he examined it as a novelty. He discovered on the brush of the broom a seed, which he carefully removed. Presently he planted it, and the growth from this seed was the first crop of broom corn in this country. Again one day when Dr. Franklin was walking by Dock creek he saw stuck in the mud a wickerwork basket, which had sprouted. Carefully he fished out the basket and carefully took it apart. He gave cuttings to his friend, Mr. Charles Norris, who planted the twigs in his garden, where they grew to great size. They turned out to be yellow willows and, as Franklin had foreseen, proved of great commercial value.

Found a Better Place.

Mark Twain said: Once when I was going out to visit some friends I told George, my negro servant, to lock the house and put the key under a certain stone near the steps. He agreed to do so. It was late at night when I returned. I went to the stone under which the key was supposed to have been hidden. It was gone. I hunted around for about fifteen minutes, but still no key. Finally I went to George's house—he roomed outside—and rapped vigorously upon the door. A black head, which I had no difficulty in recognizing as George's, popped out of an upstairs window.

"Where did you put that key, you black rascal?" I roared.

"Oh, massa," answered George, "I found a better place for it!"

It Ignited.

Little Rollis, four years old, came to the table, where we had tomato soup, of which he is very fond. Being very hungry, he could not wait for it to cool, but hastily ate two or three spoonfuls; then, laying down his spoon, he exclaimed, "My goodness, that soup is so hot it makes sparks all down me."—Delineator.

Why He Was Mad.

Stubb—What's the trouble with the writer's husband? He looks angry enough to chew tacks. Penn—And he is. She dedicated her latest book to him. Stubb—Gracious! I should consider that a compliment. Penn—Not if you knew the title of the book. It is "Wild Animals I Have Met."—Chicago News.

Proved It.

"What started the riot at the performance of 'Hamlet' last night?" "Why, Hamlet held the skull and said: 'Alas, poor Yorick! You are not the only deadhead in the house.'"

The Missing Part.

Mrs. Boarder—How do you find the chicken soup, Mr. Boarder? Mr. Boarder—I have no difficulty in finding the soup, madam, but I am inclined to think the chicken will prove an alibi.

"Talk not of a good life, but let thy good life talk."—Schiller.

The dance given at the G. A. R. hall, Saturday evening, proved a social success. The second of the series of dances which is being given by a committee of ladies from the Tropico Ladies' Thursday Afternoon Club was given in Logan's hall last night. The attendance was very good and the event proved to be one of much pleasure. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Burke orchestra. Members of the committee in charge were Mesdames E. J. Morgan, C. A. Barker, Burt Richardson, J. H. Webster, E. M. Lynch and J. H. Seaman.

This week Tropico avenue was resurfaced and replatted. This street has been widened to sixty feet along its entire length. Along the north side of the street a sidewalk will be installed. What this sidewalk will be made of has not yet been decided—some of the residents want cement while others seem to be satisfied with the common decomposed granite walk. Besides these improvements the street will be graded and generally beautified, and converted into a first-class thoroughfare.

A birthday surprise party was tendered Mrs. Hattie Brewster on Thursday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilkinson on San Fernando road. The affair proved to be a complete surprise to Mrs. Brewster. The hours were passed in playing clench, after which refreshments were served. Next Thursday the Tropico Ladies' Afternoon Club will hold an all-day meeting at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stine of West Fourth street, Glendale. The purpose of the meeting will be to cut old magazines for scrap books which will be sent to the King's Daughters' day nursery of Los Angeles. Pictures will be cut out from the magazines and pasted in the scrap books, then they will be sent to the nursery to be distributed among the little tots confined there. The ladies should be encouraged in this work, as the little gifts will doubtless bring many happy moments to the little ones.

This will be a library donation meeting and each lady is requested to bring a book for the library.

TROPICO METHODIST NOTES.

By the Pastor.

Next Sunday morning the members of the Masonic fraternity will attend the service at the church on the corner of Central and Palmer avenues in a body. At the evening service Col. Sobieski of Los Angeles will deliver an address in this church. He is a nephew of King John who was on the throne of Poland when Russia conquered Poland and made it a vassal country. A cordial invitation is extended to every one to be present at both services.

Last Sunday evening a number of young men from the Y. M. C. A. of the University of Southern California were with us and took charge of the services of the evening. They are earnest young men and are giving their time without compensation to the work of preaching the gospel.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of this church held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McWharther on the San Fernando road. The meeting was both interesting and profitable.

NEW BOOKS FOR LIBRARY.

The committee which was appointed by the Ladies' Thursday Afternoon Club to purchase books with the money which was gathered on Tag Day, reports that it has spent $10.80 of the money already having purchased the following books: "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine, The Fighting Chance, Lewis Rand, The Man from Brodways, Partner of Blossom of Range, The Golden Greyhound, The Woe of Tokala, Phronse Pepper, Five Little Peppers and Their Friends, A Girl in Ten Thousand, World of Girls, Tattered Tom, The Roser, Boys on the Ocean, Paul the Peddler and A Dog of Flanders. The committee will spend between fifteen and twenty dollars for the installing of new cases for new books in the library room. The ladies inform us that they will be glad to receive any magazines which the people of the town feel inclined to donate as the magazines have a great demand.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church of this place held a very enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. McWharther on the San Fernando road, Tuesday afternoon.

The first part of the afternoon was taken up with the business of the society, after which the time was spent in games and a program. During the afternoon Mrs. Ax opened the mystery box containing questions on the work in the foreign field. Following the second part of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

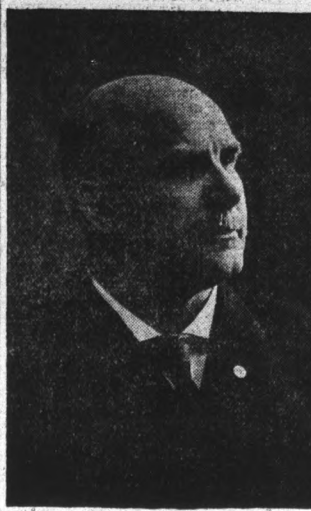

The members of the Union Bible class held their meeting in the Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening. Although the attendance was not as large as was desired, the meeting proved very interesting. Pastor Smale was present and gave a short talk on the meaning of a certain part of the Bible. The meetings will be continued every Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church.

PROHIBITION COLUMN.

By Edgar Leavitt.

No reader of these lines should forget that Hon. Eugene W. Chaffin, late Prohibition candidate for president of these United States, is to speak in Glendale, Monday, March 22d, afternoon and evening, Odd Fellows' hall at 2:30 p. m., and Knights of Pythias' hall at 7:30 p. m.

It is not often that a town the size of Glendale is favored with the presence of a real live presidential candidate, and Bro. Chaffin is very much alive, as all agree who hear him speak on public issues. He is fully the equal of the candidate of any political party had in the last campaign, and every one who can should give himself the pleasure and profit of hearing him. Admission free.

The Prohibition Column.

The Prohibition Club of Glendale, representing the 53 voters who in the last presidential election declared themselves for nation-wide, not merely state-wide, county-wide, precinct-wide, or well-to-do residence-wide Prohibition have asked me to speak for them in the column which the editor of The News has kindly given us, that we may have an occasional opportunity to publicly air not merely our opinions, but our convictions. Members of a minority political party, we do not own a party organ, and are not strong enough to force recognition from hostile newspapermen, are certainly at a great disadvantage, where the sense of generosity and fair play does not, as in this case it does, give them an opportunity through the local paper. Public opinion is mixed and various, and while in large communities each party can have its own organ, in counties like our own the local papers should, we believe, give an opportunity to all phases of opinion within reasonable limits and conditions a chance to be heard. The editor, while having special functions of his own, should in some measure act as a moderator of a public meeting, letting all have a chance who observe the rules of parliamentary and civil behavior. It is not for the good of the community to suppress any decent phase of thought decently expressed. Fair play promotes good feeling and strengthens the business side as well of the paper that depends for its support on the people of various opinions in a small community.

Local Option.

The objection to local option is too local and too optional. That is to say, the problem is not a local one merely. We may keep liquor from being sold or given away in the corporate limits of the city of Glendale, but we can't prevent those so inclined from going to Los Angeles, or West Glendale, or up the canyon and loading up and coming back and doing all the damage that might result inside this corporation. Some people argue each little community should be allowed to settle the question for itself, whether it will have liquor sold in its midst or not. There would be more reason in this if those communities that permit the sale could confine the results within their own limits. It is like starting a fire on a man's own land, that gets away and ruins his neighbor's.

Then what about the rights of those who do not use liquor and do not want it sold; how are their rights to be protected; or is the question of personal liberty and personal rights one that only has one side to it? To say that the law affords a remedy if evil is done, is not true, for there can in so many cases be no possible remedy after the result has occurred. Prevention or prohibition is the only remedy; and the question that every one must settle for himself is are the benefits derived from the exercise of personal liberty in the use and abuse—for there is sure to be abuse—of alcoholic liquors sufficient to offset the evil which results, and the injury to the rights and personal liberty of others? So prohibitionists believe every community ought to have a chance to vote it out, but no county ought to have a chance to vote it in, for this is a wrong to neighboring communities, and a wrong to innocent people in the community that licenses it. Nevertheless, as sufficiently enlightened counties will vote it out, it is no doubt good as an expedient so long as it continues to make more dry territory.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

Work of the Week.

The machinery of government costs a goodly sum in California. The appropriation recommended for the coming year by the ways and means committee is $9,658,295, an increase over two years ago of about a million and a half. The cost of the legislature is put down at $197,700, which means about $2400 per day for the 80 days or so that it will have been in session. The most important action in either house during the week, was taken on Wednesday, when the assembly by a vote of 38 to 35 agreed to the Leeds amendment to the Wright bill as far as it applies to the election of U. S. senator. The bill as amended by Leeds will be of a perfectly harmless character and will leave the people just as far from having a voice in the election of a senator as they are present. Leeds and Stanton are the fore front of the Republican organization and can be depended upon with Transue and some other reliables to put through the program prepared for the perpetuation of things as they are. And the program is undoubtedly neat. It will be remembered that the last Republican county convention in Los Angeles put two rather noticeable things in their platform; one was the endorsement of the "Direct Primary" and the other was the instructions to hold-over senators to support Senator Flint in his campaign for re-election two years hence. Now as Senator Flint was elected in the first place by a skillful manipulation of his home county convention—there being not the shadow of a popular demand for his election to that high office—it would naturally strike the observer that the direct primary would not be courted by him. The platform, however, threw a sop to the dear people and then the great directing minds of the organization set themselves to work to render the direct primary harmless, and this is the result. The amendment of Leeds provides that the direct primary shall be by districts instead of by the state at large, as in the original. The result of this will probably be that a half dozen candidates will be named by the primary vote and no one of them will be the choice of the majority of the voters, throwing the responsibility of election upon the legislature just where it rests at present. We are glad to note that two members from Los Angeles county voted against the amendment, Assemblymen Cattell and Cogswell. Mr. Cattell, who represents this district, is making an excellent record, while Cogswell of El Monte is maintaining the one he made two years ago. The speaker of the house received the other day a protest against the direct primary bill signed by J. B. Osborn, who claims to represent 29,000 Socialist voters of the state.

The local option bill has been reported favorably by the judiciary committee of the assembly, after hearing an exhaustive argument by Estadillo in its favor.

The text book bill has passed the house. One of its features that will appeal forcibly to parents of large collections of children, is the one making the life of text books in the schools eight years.

Adjournment is now promised for a date not later than March 20th, possibly by the 17th.

YOUR POINT OF VIEW.

Be watchful of your point of view! There may be those who laugh at the name "Glendale the Beautiful," and look ever at our city as the sage and cactus patch of yore, with naught of beauty, and little of Glendale. Though the purses of such burrs with gold, we deplore their poverty, for ours is the true wealth, we who joy in the inspiration of the lark and the mocker, the swelling chorus of the birds, the gold of spring sunshine, of ripening Valencias, of sunscups and acacias. Gold, gold; yes, we love gold, but not that which some squeeze till it screams. In all golden California, glorified in history, song and poetry, there is no spot lovelier than Glendale, whose streets are rapidly stretching out in broad paved ribbons, tree-broadened. Whose gardens glow with blossoms of exquisite beauty, vining lawns of green velvet; and whose citizens' hearts swell with civic pride and loyalty for the fair city whose beauty and reputation grows in spite of us and because of us. Be ever careful of your point of view, and yours will be a life of contentment in "Glendale del sur." Be jealous of your good opinion of her, and let no kicker influence your boasting propensities for a single instant. "If for Glendale you cannot crow, let her alone—and let her grow!"
